SITUATION NOW IS TENSE ALONG ULSTER BORDER

Large Forces of British Troops May Be Sent To Ireland.

BATTLE IMMINENT

Sinn Feiners And Ulsterites Ready to Clash—Belfast Riots Continue.

London, Feb. 13.—Two persons were shot to death and several others were wounded in fresh disorders in Belfast during the morning, according to a Central News dispatch received from that city at 2 o'clock this afternoon. This brought the dead in Belfast and environs in the past 24 hours up to five, four men and a woman.

Disturbances are reported throughout the whole countryside (Ulster Province), telegraphed the Central News correspondent. An American newspaperman who left Belfast for the Free State on Friday has not been heard from since. A number of saw mills in the Ballina district were burned.

Orders for British troop withdrawals from Cork have been cancelled, said a dispatch from that city.

London, Feb. 13.—British troop reinforcements are being moved into Ulster province, Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill announced in the house of commons this afternoon. The evacuation of the British troops from Ireland has been suspended. The British government this afternoon cancelled orders for military evacuation of Cork, Dublin and Bantry.

Seven persons were killed and 14 were wounded in fighting at Belfast during the last 24 hours.

Fears of civil war in Ireland have been intensified by the week end developments.

London, Feb. 13.—Rifle and revolver firing was in progress in parts of Belfast throughout the entire night, according to a word received from that city this morning.

A man and a woman were shot dead at Belfast, late Sunday night. A tense situation prevails along Ulster frontier where bands of armed republicans and orangemen confront each other ready for battle.

According to the Daily News, Sir James Craig, premier of the Unionist government of Ulster, proposes that large forces of British troops be sent to the Ulster border to patrol both the Ulster and the Free State side.

Official announcement was made in Downing Street that four battalions of British troops which were originally under orders to evacuate Ireland have been ordered to Belfast.

A battle between Sinn Feiners and Ulsterites is reported imminent at Clones.

Clones is on the Great Northern Railway. It lies in Monaghan county near the border of Fermanagh county in the southern part of Ulster province.

Hundreds of residents of the town and the district have fled. Armed men from each faction are patrolling the roads leading into the town and trenches have been dug.

While the British government is satisfied that the Irish provisional government at Dublin, under the guidance of Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith is doing all it can to restore order and prevent further fighting, anxiety has been aroused by the republican demonstration which gripped Eamonn Devalera in Dublin Sunday afternoon. Devalera made a speech opening his political campaign for the forthcoming general election. He spoke against the Irish free state and demanded a republic.

Belfast, Feb. 13.—Three persons have been killed in this city and environs during the past 24 hours. A man was found dead this morning in a field on the outskirts of the city. He had been shot.

OIL PROBE IS WANTED

Washington, Feb. 13.—A federal investigation of the Standard Oil Company was asked of the senate today in resolution from middlewestern independent oil operators. The resolutions were submitted by Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, and referred to the committee on commerce.

OBJECTIONS ARE RAISED TO PLAN

Washington, Feb. 13.—Secretary of the Navy Denby encountered some serious objections to his proposals for naval appropriations when he appeared today before the house naval affairs committee with a schedule of reductions designed to reduce expenditures from $478,000,000 to $350,000,000 during the fiscal year 1922-23.

"That will not do," objected Rep. Thomas S. Butler of Pennsylvania, the committee chairman, when Denby had presented his figures. "Before the war in 1916, the cost of maintaining the navy, exclusive of construction was $107,000,000. As we have taken out most of the construction by the limitation of armaments agreement, the people will not support a vote by us for three times this year's cost of the navy."

TO SPEED UP DECISION ON GOVERNMENT'S NITRATE PLANT AT MUSCLE SHOALS, ALA.

Committees of Both House and Senate Prepare to Facilitate Action Relative to Henry Ford's Offer—Expect Developments This Week.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Committees of both the senate and house prepared to speed up, today, in deciding what is to be done with the government's $105,000,000 nitrate and power plants at Muscle Shoals, Ala., which Henry Ford and others interested have offered to lease and develop. The house military affairs committee today resumed its hearings on Ford's bid. Engineers for the Detroit manufacturer were scheduled to appear before the committee with full authorization to act for Ford, who will not come here personally.

The senate agriculture committee will begin deliberations on development proposals, tomorrow.

The week promises to see rapid developments to aid congress to make its decision whether the shoals property will be leased to private enterprise or be completed and maintained by the government, primarily, because of its war preparedness value.

POPE PIUS XI SUPREME HEAD OF CATHOLICS

New Pontiff Assumes Duties of Office Following Coronation.

Rome, Feb. 13.—Pope Pius XI whose pontificate dates officially from the time of his coronation, today, assumed formally the duties of supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church. The spontaneous tributes of affection and reverence which accompanied the brilliant coronation ceremonies, Sunday, made it evident that no pope in the past century has begun his high duties under more auspicious circumstances than the present occupant of the chair of St. Peter.

Pope Pius XI was deeply touched by the evidences of devotion which marked the whole of Sunday. He spoke with deep feeling of the manifestations of "his children" in the great square of St. Peters, flanking the vatican.

Sixty thousand persons witnessed the coronation rites in St. Peters cathedral while nearly two hundred thousand waited outside for the pontifical blessing.

There is a feeling of expectation that the new pope will reject traditions.

Since 1870 every sovereign pontiff of the church has immured himself in the vatican during the tenure of his office. It is regarded as highly probable that Pope Pius XI will upset this tradition. Hitherto the popes have chosen for their sleeping chamber an apartment looking into the beautiful vatican gardens. The new pontiff has selected a room looking out over the city of Rome.

It is certain that there will be objections on the part of many members of the sacred college of cardinals if the pope begins to upset the old and accepted forms of the vatican. However, Pius XI has already shown he is a man of inflexible purpose once his mind is made up.

A declaration of policy is expected to be made late today.

AUTO OWNERS ARE ASKED TO FIGHT PROPOSED TAXES

If the federal gasoline and auto horsepower tax, proposed as a means of raising funds to pay out a federal bonus, goes into effect, the affiliated automobile clubs, are going to rise up and loudly shout "class legislation."

This was indicated in statement of taxes paid by auto owners given out, Monday, by the Greene County Automobile Club. The auto owners claim they are paying high and varied taxes now because they own automobiles, and are organizing to fight any further or proposed taxation to a finish. The club asks auto owners to join in the fight.

The proposed defensive alliance of the miners and members of the sixteen major railroad unions likely will be discussed freely by the delegates.

The wage question will come sharply to the front early in the convention for the sealed recommendations of the scale committee are to be opened shortly after the opening and placed before the representatives of the 400,000 miners of the bituminous coal fields for their approval.

The proposed defensive alliance of the miners and members of the sixteen major railroad unions likely will be discussed freely by the delegates.

Initial Work Is Started In Rail-Mine Conference

Meeting Scheduled to Take Place February 21 Planned as "Defensive Action" against Wage Cuts May Precipitate Industrial Crisis in Country.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Lines for what is expected to develop into an acute industrial crisis were being drawn today, as coal miners and railway workers prepared for a conference here on Feb. 21, to plan "defensive action" against proposed wage reductions and the United States railroad labor board began clearing the decks for the beginning on March 6 of hearings on applications for wage reductions by the carriers and wage increases by the workers.

The carriers have asked for a flat reduction of 10 per cent in the wages of members of the "big four" brotherhoods and the so called standard unions. The union men are preparing vigorously to oppose this move and to fight for pay increases for many classes of railway workers.

While the railroad situation is moving toward what many believe to be a crisis the opinion also is growing that a coal strike is inevitable on April 1, when the prevailing agreement between the unions and the operators expire. Proposed wage cuts, elimination of the check off system and other issues are viewed with such unyielding attitudes by both sides, it is declared that only a test of strength can determine the outcome of the controversy.

This decision reached by the administration will be embodied in legislation soon to be urged upon congress by President Harding. The president and his cabinet are anxious that congress enact a law, without delay to govern the disposition of the enormous holdings in the custody of the alien property custodian. The problem is now the basis of discussions between Secretary of State Hughes, Attorney General Daugherty and Col. Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian.

President Harding has been informed by his advisers on the question that provisions of the peace resolution gives sufficient authority for this government to hold the seized property until provision has been made for the satisfaction of all claims against Germany.

THREE-DAY TRIP WILL BE TAKEN BY BASKETBALL TEAM

Central High School basketball team will start next Thursday on a three-day, two-game trip that will include games with Bradford and Piqua High Schools on foreign courts.

The team will play Bradford High Thursday night, the opening game of the trip. Bradford is Coach Jerry Katherman's home town, and he attended high school in that place. His athletes are more than anxious to show off in front of the home town boys, by disporting themselves in rare fashion on the court and incidentally knocking the Bradford High team for a row of banking boards.

Friday night, the travelers will have their hands full up at Piqua, where they hope to convince Frank Ridemour, George Andrews, and other former Xenians, that Xenia is still the county seat of Greene County. The Piqua team defeated Stivers and will be one of the strongest combinations the locals will meet this season.

Failing in an attempt to book a game with Ada High School Saturday night, Coach Katherman will let his charges have an off day, but will take them to Ada where is located Ohio Northern, the local mentor's alma mater. There the blue and white tossers will be entertained by Coach Katherman's fraternity brothers at the Delta Sigma Chi house, and will be guests of Ohio Northern at the Ohio Northern-Wittenberg game Saturday night. They will remain at the fraternity house over night, returning home Sunday.

The team will make the trip by automobile.

FARM CONDITIONS SHOW IMPROVEMENT WAR FINANCE CORPORATION REPORTS

Washington, Feb. 13.—Optimistic views of improved conditions in the country's basic agricultural industries are warranted by reports received by the war finance corporation from its field agencies, according to a statement issued last night by Managing Director Meyer.

"Corn is now selling at country elevators in Nebraska and Iowa 40 cents a bushel, as against 20 cents four months ago," he said. "Hogs command a good market, and reports indicate that farmers are getting the equivalent of 80 to 90 cents for corn that is marketed on the hoof. The market for sheep is stabilized. They are selling in large quantities and at prices considered satisfactory to the growers and feeders.

"The cattle market is no longer demoralized; the breeding herds are being held; the young stock is no longer being sacrificed, and the feeding and fattening business is proceeding in good volume and with fairly satisfactory returns. There's a broad market for wool and hides at good prices.

AUSTRIAN MONEY CARRIED IN CLOTHES HAMPERS.

You might think these men were delivering laundry to a hotel, but no; they are carrying 17,500,000 in paper kronen to a bank in Vienna. This Austrian money, turned out by the drayload and having no gold basis, has depreciated until the whole 17,500 kronen is worth but $6,000 in American money. No guards are needed to keep away bandits, who would have a hard time, luging away the booty, even if they could get it.

Manchester, N. H., Feb. 13.—Five thousand striking employees formed a picket line about the Stark and Moskong cotton mills today. The pickets kept moving and the small police detail on duty had nothing to do. Less than 4,000 workers reported at the mills and they were forced to suspend operations. About 18,000 workers are striking here.

It is estimated that more than 40,000 textile workers are unemployed throughout New England today because of disputes over wages and working hours. Announcement of twenty per cent wage reductions by mill owners has been followed by strikers in nearly every mill where the cuts became effective.

In Rhode Island, where the reductions were first announced a number of mills have been forced by strikers to close down and there the first disorders have occurred. About 15,000 workers are out in Rhode Island. A number of New Hampshire and Maine mills have been affected but Lowell is the only Massachusetts textile center where a strike has occurred. There are more than 3,000 workers out there.

There is a hint of peasant embroidery in another spring dress from a French house this is a very unusual dress of navy blue twill cloth with the curious arrangement for the sleeves. Of course only a tall slender woman should risk such an effect—or a shorter woman, but

This was evidenced when athletes and others interested in the great national sport met at Roy Bayliff's shop Sunday afternoon in response to a call and got the new club underway.

The team will play practically all out of town games meeting some of the best teams in this section of the state, and an effort is being made to corral all of the baseball material in the community for tryouts this spring. The evening Sunday national sport at Roy Bayliff's Roy Bayliff was elected manager of the new club and James Ross, assistant manager.

Players whose names have been asterisked. Roy Bayliff was elected manager to show up for trial soon, are G. Haller, J. Haller, Les Stiles, Milburn, Mangan, Hurley, Bell, Shaffer, Knee, Holand, Ary, Smith, Noble, P. Fuller, R. Fuller, L. Fuller, J. Fuller, Neville, J. Leahay, T. Leahay, W. Leahay, M. Leahay, McCormick, Donovan, Hatfield, Glenn Bayliff, Houk, Pritchard, Drake, Yeakley, Skelly, Stevens, F. Davis, H. Davis, Hoag, Bennington, DeAatley, Boroff, Kones, Chambliss, Cooper, Baker, Schneider, Moore, Peterson, F. Randall, E. Randall, W. Derrick D. Derrick, W.ath, C. Bath, F. Bath, Cann, Owens. Besides these a number of out of town players not mentioned are being interested in the traveling club venture, and other players in this city who are not mentioned, are also asked to report for a trial.

An effort will be made to obtain the rink for indoor practice before the weather permits getting out on the diamond. A committee has been appointed to make arrangements to obtain the Washington Street park where the Brews played last season for a practice lot, and another committee has been appointed to look after uniforms. These committees have been asked to report next Sunday afternoon.

Efforts are already under way in an attempt to book games with Mechanicsburg, Lancaster, Waynesville, Morrow, Washington C. H., Wilmington, Sabina, Piqua, Middletown, Tippecanoe City, Zimmerman, Miamisburg, Alpha, Bellbrook, Painterville, Akron, Lebanon, Bellfontaine, Chillicothe, Delaware and Portsmouth teams, including the Eagles and Tigers of Circleville, the Zanesville, Greys and the Potters of Cincinnati.

INVESTIGATION ORDERED.

Washington, Feb. 13.—An investigation to determine whether the former army transport Northern Pacific which burned and sank off the Jersey coast on February 8 was undermanned when she caught fire was ordered today by the bureau of navigation of the commerce department. The inquiry will be held in New York, the date to be fixed later.

PENROSE'S SUCCESSOR, SENATOR PEPPER, ASSAILED
GOV. COX'S JACKSON DAY SPEECH.

The late Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, has a worthy successor in the United States Senate in the newly appointed Senator Pepper, who has just taken his seat. All reports of him are to the effect that he is a very able man, an uncompromising Republican, and bids fair to very worthily represent the Keystone state in Congress. On last Wednesday evening, at a Republican Club meeting at Albany, N. Y., among other pertinent things in his address, he paid his respects to our Dayton neighbor as follows:

"I call your attention to the remarkable speech made by ex-Governor Cox at a recent Jackson Day banquet. I commend that utterance to you as a comprehensive statement of the political philosophy which the Democratic Party would apply to world problems. I hope that neither Governor Cox nor his party will ever be permitted to get away from that speech. With obvious sincerity it commends to the American people a single remedy for industrial depression, high prices, international complications and the financial difficulties of foreign States.

"The simple and sufficient remedy thus commended is to join the League of Nations. That naive prescription is accompanied by an attack upon the work of the American delegates to the Washington Conference and is coupled with the following dignified assertion: 'In the face of these fundamental truths the Administration at Washington is vainly trying to bring better times by resort to the noisy methods of a circus.' If a Republican Administration were actually doing anything of that sort it would be deplorable judgment; for in this highly specialized line we must admit the superiority of our Democratic friends and the pre-eminent qualification of Governor Cox to be the central figure in that particular form of popular entertainment.

"But just as the Democratic standard-bearer was sensing the failure of the Washington Conference, the announcements were made which demonstrated its entire success. Just as he was luxuriating in the prospect of deepening international gloom, the sun burst and a new day dawned. And that was precisely what anybody but a Democrat might have expected; for just as President Harding has shown his capacity to gather about him the kind of men whom America likes to trust, so he and his great Secretary of State have worked out a method of dealing with international problems that is as effective as it is sound.

"If in a few words you are ever asked to sum up the difference between Republicans and Democrats, you cannot do better than place side by side the present Cabinet and the one that immediately preceded it. If you are ever asked to make a comparative exhibit of Republican and Democratic achievement you will do well to compare the splendid outcome of a Conference modestly undertaken in the proper spirit, with the futilities of a grandiose scheme that was bad in conception and worse in execution.

"You, my good friends, and such as you, are those who will stand behind the President as thus he resolutely attacks one grave problem after another, and as loyal Republicans you will rejoice with exceeding great joy, when on the day of reckoning a grateful country exclaims, 'Well done, good and faithful servant.'

HURRAH FOR DEMOCRATIC CHICAGO.

Rev. John H. Williamson, pastor of a Methodist Episcopal Church, Thursday became Law Enforcement Commissioner of Chicago, with supreme powers in caring for the city's moral welfare.

His appointment to the past, especially formed by Mayor William Hale ("Big Bill") Thompson, at the request of reform and religious organizations, was announced by the Mayor, and Mr. Williamson resigned as pastor of his church to accept the new position.

In announcing his acceptance the Law Enforcement Commissioner declared that the office would be conducted "in accordance with the teaching of Christ."

He appealed to all Christian organizations, regardless of race, color and creed, to join him in an anti-crime drive that would rid Chicago of crooks forever, regardless of the strata in which they lived. He was enjoined especially by Mayor Thompson to seek any corruption that might exist among city officials, and was informed that his decision would be final, whether they hit "the highest city official or the lowest crook on the streets."

GERMANY'S RESOURCES.

A better understanding of the real nature of Germany's financial resources is urged in London. It is believed that the reparations commission could throw light on the subject and it is suggested that the commission be asked to make all possible facts plain to the public. As definite information along these lines would help to clear the entire economic situation, nothing should be withheld at any source which would help to straighten out the present tangle.

The uncompromising attitude of the French on the subject of German reparations has affected the money market, and aroused fresh division of opinion in England and elsewhere as to whether Germany should and could be held to the original reparation terms outlined in the Versailles treaty and the subsequent modification of them.

It is almost incredible that after all the "talk about it," the facts are not known or that there is not some way of laying them before the world accurately and beyond the shadow of a doubt. Until this is done there is no way of proving that leniency to Germany is fair or that the insistence of France on the contrary course is unfair.

WINTER COSMETICS
In the winter certain cosmetics are essential. Only the most oily skin can resist the drying powers of very cold weather, and no woman that I have ever yet found can get through a cold Northern winter without having the lips chap.

Therefore cold cream plays a leading part as a winter cosmetic. But I do not mean an ordinary cleansing cream by this, for cleansing cream is practically no good at all. I mean a cream containing vegetable oil which the skin will absorb. If you cannot purchase a good one you would do well to go to the slight trouble of making one. My standard formula is:

FINE COLD CREAM
Rose water 4 ounces
Almond oil 4 ounces
Spermaceti 1 ounce
White wax 1 ounce
Benzoin 1 drachm

This cream is practically as effective, and less expensive, if you sub-purchase an ordinary lipstick for this only be sure to buy a white cream one instead of a colored one, since the only ones will make the mouth unnaturally red and show badly as make up.

Jo.—At 19 years, with height of 5 feet 4 inches, your weight of 115 pounds is all right, even though it will take another five pounds to total the average. I am glad to hear of the splendid results from the eyelash tonic.

In using salt water to tone the skin the proportions are attained by testing it. It should never be so salty that it smarts, nor so little salted that you cannot taste it. A few experiments will determine the amount.

Dry salt rubbed into the hands after washing them during all the cold weather will keep the skin fine grained and prevent most of that unpleasant dryness of the hands at this season.

Middle of February, and soon Spring will be here! Will the new season bring radical changes in fashion? It is not so easy to answer at this early date, for although American designs, particularly in ready-to-wear apparel, have achieved a place of great importance the last few years, we still derive our inspiration from the well-known houses of Paris and their final creations for the Spring are only just beginning to come through.

One of these very new models I illustrate in the sketch above. To those who have been infatuated with the trim lines of the chemise frock, this frock will prove reassuring. In fact many of the new things so far are built on the same lines. In this model blue serge has been used. The set-in panel in front, repeated also behind is machine stitched in a matelasse effect in red thread and a red patent leather belt is used.

VITAMINES.

Another great and helpful fad enchains the sons of men; eat cockleburs if you feel bad, and you'll be well again. For burs are full of vitamines—whatever they may be—and from all symptoms and all signs of ill they'll set you free. Cooked vitchens are the stuff, it's clear, that sends us to the tomb, that fits us for the shroud and bier, while in our youthful bloom. Roast beef is but a deadly snare, and pies are like a gin; shun the accustomed bill of fare, for death's concealed therein. Raw grub is full of vitamines, and that's why cattle grow, and why the horses hump their spines, kick up their heels and go. Most men are languid, needing spurs to keep them at their toil, but when they've eaten cockleburs they fairly paw the soil. I fed my aunt some cockleburs, to see what she would do; there never was such smoke as her's, as round the house she flew. I wonder that our fathers stayed on this old earth so long, for all their customs were decayed, and all their theories wrong. They never heard of vitamines, and yet, wrong-headed men, they never would take in their signs till three score years and ten.

So you think the world is against you. The ripened fruits, the growing roots of a thousand kinds every natural spring, every waterfall, every bird song is for you.

The whole world is FOR you—strong.

Every sun that rises and sets, every wave of air, every colored and fragrant flower, every bush and tree, every blade of grass, every tiny speck of sand and every rock, every mountain, every stream, every shaded winding road, every strain of music, every touch of Nature's beauty, belongs in part to you—and is FOR you.

Opportunity is for you!

LOCAL BOY SCOUTS OBSERVE NATIONAL DAY ON SUNDAY

An address on "The Ideal Boy" and commendation of the Boy Scout Movement, were given by Rev. William H. Tilford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, at the celebration of National Scout Sunday, by local troop, No. 1, Boy Scouts of America, held Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Presbyterian church.

The Boy Scout or the ideal American boy, according to the standard set by the Rev. Tilford, is foursquare, in physical, mental, social and spiritual attainments. If the boy deteriorates in any of these, he does not come up to the standard and is as a result inferior said Mr. Tilford.

Citing the reference to Christ, where "He grew in stature, in wisdom and in favor with God an ideal to follow, said Rev. Tilford, and he should not neglect the opportunity.

Demonstrations were given at the Sunday school service by the Boy Scouts, who numbered about 24, in bandaging, first aid, and also in a co-operative drill. At the close of the service the Scouts attended in a body the morning preaching service. Special music was given by the choir before the Rev. Tilford's address. Dr. W. A. Galloway and Leigh Nisbet, Scout Master, were in charge of the Scouts.

DUNN ACT SCORED BY HEALTH SERVICE

Columbus, Feb. 13.—Condemning the "cabinet," or "federal" system and urging a return to the bi-partisan council control plan, the Ohio Public Health Association, in a bulletin made public, today, declares that the first seven months of operation of the Dunn act, providing for re-organization of state departments, has resulted in a lowering of standards, and in political interference with policies of state health administration.

WHAT'S A FLAPPER? OPINIONS SEEM TO DIFFER WIDELY

(San Francisco Chronicle)
What is a "flapper"? Lexicographers, editors, college professors and laymen generally are vying one with the other in efforts to answer the question.

To the present the variety of definitions has been limited only by the number of individuals who have undertaken the task.

Apparently the only thought is common is that the "flapper" is wont to frequent the college campus.

Mrs. Mary Ida Bentley, former Secretary of the San Francisco Y. W. C. A., started the discussion by acknowledging actual existence of "flapper" in higher institutions of learning and defining her as a girl who believes personality is physical who considers all advice abstract, who is in love with continual change and who converses in generalities. She said there were two classes of "flappers"—passive and intense.

The Daily Maroon, University of Chicago publication, says the "flapper" is a girl who parades the campus bareheaded wearing a huge fur coat and unbuckled galoshes. She specializes in lines and tea hours. Her favorite occupations are dancing and cutting classes. In most respects she is a 1923 model built on campus lines, with a slimeline body and a sporty carriage.

Now comes "Bathhouse John," Chicago politician, who defines a "flapper" as a youthful female, beauteous externally, blase internally, superficially intelligent and imitative to a high degree. He says her natural habitat is the ballroom, the boulevard and the fast motor car. He asserts the "flapper" browses about the trough of learning glibly repeating smart phrases without sensing their meaning. Her main requirements, he insists, are nerve and a face and figure either beautiful or susceptible to artistic effort.

Apparently the most that can be said with any degree of certainty is

FARM EQUIPMENT MUCH CURTAILED IT IS INDICATED

That Ohio farmers have reduced to about one-third their purchases of farm machinery, since 1920, is indicated by figures gathered by rural economists of the Ohio State University.

The inquiry touched 40 typical farms in Greene and Medina counties, 30 in each. It was found that these 10 farms bought in 1920 a total of $19,044 worth of equipment. The same farms in 1921 expended only $5,816 in such purchases, a reduction in expenditure of 69 per cent.

Commenting on the finding, J. I. Falconer, professor of rural economics at the University, says: "The figures secured by our investigators check with the statement of many large implement manufacturers that their sales have dropped from 60 to 70 per cent the past year."

"It is undoubtedly true that purchases of farm equipment in 1920 were abnormally large, but it is equally certain that purchases made in 1921 were far below normal. It is a serious reduction which, much longer continued, will leave our farms without enough equipment to operate efficiently."

SAYS INDUSTRIES OPPOSED TO PLAN

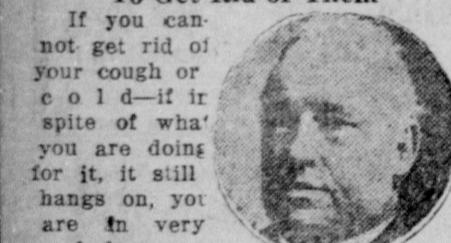

Washington, Feb. 13.—Industries of the country oppose cash appropriations for a soldiers' bonus "as being socially unwise, an economic absurdity and politically preposterous," according to a statement issued last night by John E. Edgerton, president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

"That millions of former soldiers," he declared, "can have their votes at the November election bought by a paltry dole of $500 or $600, payable $50 a quarter, beginning at some time in 1923 is such an insult to their intelligence, and an outrage to their sense of decency for re-election every member of Congress house or senate, who supports this iniquitous measure."

He added, however, that the industries of the country were not opposing "the most generous and liberal care for the disabled veterans of the world war or the dependents of those killed in it."

SIXTEEN ARRESTED IN POLICE RAIDS OVER WEEK END

A heavy docket of sixteen names faced Judge E. D. Smith in Police Court, Monday morning and fines ranging from $25 and costs to $500 and costs, were meted out as the names were churned through the police mill.

Lon Anderson, 47, charged with possessing liquor illegally was fined $500 and costs when he entered a plea of guilty to the charge and he was locked up at police headquarters, with the prospect of a work house sentence to serve out the time. Anderson was arrested by Chief of Police M. E. Graham Saturday night at the rink where a dance was in progress. He had two pints of corn whiskey in his possession police say.

Howard Fox, 27, was arrested by Patrolman Charles Simms, Saturday night, on a charge of plain drunk. He was fined $25 and costs by Judge Smith when he pleaded guilty. In police court and $15 of the fine was suspended on the agreement that he does not drink any more corn liquor. Harry Arnold, 50, was arrested Saturday night by Assistant Chief David Mangan and Patrolman Simms and Monday morning entered a plea of not guilty before Judge Smith. His hearing was set for Tuesday morning.

Thirteen arrests were made in a raid conducted by Assistant Chief Mangan, with Patrolman Simms and Fred Jones, at the home of Evaline Leach, 38, colored better known as Eva Leach, of East Main Street. L. A. Judy, 45, said to have been living at the Leach home, was charged with loitering, and entered a plea of not guilty, Monday morning. His hearing was set for Wednesday morning at nine o'clock. Mrs. Leach was charged with keeping a place where liquor is sold to which charge she plead not guilty, Monday morning. Her hearing was set for Wednesday morning at nine o'clock.

Eleven men arrested at Mrs. Leach's house, were each charged with loitering. They are Hovey Harvey, 32, W. L. Rockafield, 31; James McCabe, 26; Carl Munner, 26; Vernon Stafford, 21; Carl Pratt, 19; L. A. Judy, 45; Carl Huston, 29, and Joe Fealey, 30. With the exception of Judy, each of the men was fined $25 and costs and because they refused to admit of any knowledge of whiskey found at the Leach place, were ordered locked up until further orders by police, Judge Smith. The raid was conducted at 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning and was the second whole sale raid conducted by police on two successive nights. A week ago Saturday, 11 were garnered in raids.

"Which Shall It Be?"

It often happens you can win the trick with either your own hand or the Dummy's, in which case you must be careful to consider these several points: Which is the longest and best suit to play for; which hand can you lead the from to the best advantage, so as to make any finesse; and especially, which hand will need the high cards as re-entry cards?

Should none of these considerations seem important, it is generally better to play low from Dummy and thereby force third hand.

The leads to the "finesse"—one of the most important plays of this most interesting, intricate game.

In Auction, only Declarant should finesse in his own hand or in Dummy's.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. What is meant by "finesse"?

A. Artifice, stratagem, skill, dexterity. Finessing at Auction—that is to use artifice or skill to accomplish some end. For instance, an attempt to win with a card lower than, and not in sequence, with the highest card in the hand, trusting the missing high card or cards are held by the adversary who has already played, and not by the adversary who plays after Declarant or Dummy.

Q. Suppose, in a new game or love score, the declarer who has bid three spades has about exhausted the possibilities of his cards after winning eight tricks, and has the lead in his own hand, with Ace and Queen of the same in the Dummy. What should he play?

A. One more trick will fulfill his contract. Two will give him game. The development of the play has shown that the adversaries will make the rest of the tricks whenever they obtain the lead, and consequently, if he fineses and loses, the eight tricks already taken will be all he will score. His ace will "die", and he will be "down one".

The play is plain. By finessing, he may lose 27 points, and a penalty of 50—or 77 in all. But the finesse gives him an even chance to win game, and whether it be the rubber, with game, it would be a most important advance toward the goal (which is points he may lose). Under similar conditions, however, should take the chance, realizing that if the Trump be Diamonds, the value of the object for which he finesse should not be taken.

SIXTY-THREE PEOPLE 100 OR OVER ARE LIVING IN STATE

Urbana, Feb. 13.—Every little while there is exploited in newspapers, the birthday of "the oldest inhabitant" or the "oldest woman in the state," whose ages are anywhere from 100 to 105 years. In fact, Champaign county claims the real oldest and to date the claim cannot or has not been definitely challenged. Mrs. Miley, of the northwest part of the county, has but recently celebrated her 105th anniversary and "Aunty" Gross, who has made her home in Urbana for many years but who at present is living with relatives in Piqua, is next in line with 104 years to her credit.

It is therefore interesting to know just how many centenarians reside in Ohio. Louis Ludlow, a special news correspondent from Washington to the Columbus Dispatch, submits the following:

"How many centenarians are there in Ohio?"

"The United States census bureau answers this question today. It states that the census shows that there are 63 persons in Ohio who are 100 years old or over. Of the 63 Ohio centenarians 19 are men and 44 are women. In the matter of longevity Ohio women take precedence over the Buckeye men. There are 224 persons in the state between the ages of 95 and 94 inclusive, of whom 897 are men and 1351 are women. Between the ages of 95 and 99 inclusive there are 405 of whom 160 are men and 245 are women."

"Southern states generally have more old people than northern, which may be explained by the fact that southerners lead a comparatively easy going life. Contrasting Georgia with Ohio shows a remarkable result. There are 453 people in Georgia who are over 100 years old, or over seven times as many as in Ohio. Georgia has 1007 in the class between 90 and 94 and 399 in class from 95 to 99."

"Indiana has only 41 centenarians and Wisconsin 49."

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

A BEEF STEW DINNER

The following dinner may represent a little extra trouble on the housekeeper's part, but the results will more than atone

Beef Stew with Dumplings
Creamed Cabbage
Corn Fritters
Coffee
Date Pie

Beef Stew with Dumplings: Put 1 1/2 pounds of beef from the shank into a large pot, add 1 onion sliced cover with cold water and let simmer slowly for about nine hours (some of this boiling may be done the day before you are to serve the roast) some of the meat will gradually come off into little strings and rise to the top. Thicken this stew with a little flour mixed to a paste with cold water, and season with salt and pepper. Just before serving sift together 1 pint of flour and 1 heaping teaspoon of baking powder; add a little salt and just enough milk to make a soft dough. Do not work it much. Dip the dough by small spoonfuls and place these upon the top of the meat, which is floating on the stew. Cover the pot quickly and let simmer ten minutes. Do not uncover while cooking in this way, or the dumplings will fall. After the dumplings are added the stew will scorch easily, so take the precaution of moving the kettle to a moderate part of the fire.

Corn Fritters: Mix together 2 eggs, 1 cup of sugar, 1/2 teaspoon of salt, 1 cup of sweet milk and 1 teaspoon of baking powder sifted with 1 cup of flour. Add more flour until you have a thick drop-batter. Then add 1 1/2 cups of canned corn and fold in the two stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Drop from a spoon into deep fat, and brown. Serve hot.

If you prefer "Corn Oysters," make them as follows: Open 1 can of corn and add to it 2 well beaten eggs, piece of butter size of a walnut melted, a little salt and pepper and only just enough flour to drop out in spoonfuls onto a hot griddle of frying pan. Fry like griddle cakes.

Date Pie: Line two pie pans with pastry, as in making a custard pie, then put into them this filling: One pound of dates which have been stewed till soft, then pressed through a colander or sieve; two eggs well mixed into the dates, and also 1 1/2 pints of sweet milk, a little salt, and 1/2 cup of sugar. Bake 40 minutes in a moderate oven. All pies containing egg should be put into a hot oven so that the crust will set, then the oven-temperature should be decreased slightly so that the filling will not boil; for if an egg filling boils it separates and makes a watery pie.

Here is another good fruit pie:
Prune-Apple Pie: Boil 1 1/2 pounds of prunes that have been soaked over night, until tender, putting them over the fire in cold water to cover. Then take out the prunes and let the liquor cool down until thicker. Press the cooked prunes through a sieve to eliminate stones, and add to this pulp 1 cup of chopped raw apple, 2 1/2 cup of sugar, a little grated lemon peel, 1/2 teaspoon salt and the liquid which you have cooked down. Bake between 2 crusts like an apple pie—that is, for about 50 minutes.

Tomorrow—Answered Letters.

HELEN HUNTER'S HUSBAND

BY JANE PHELPS

A DAY IN BED RESTORES HELEN CHAPTER 38

Helen's parting remark remained with Jack all day.

Was he an old stogy, as she had said? Would she be happier if he was like—Barnes? She seemed to like him, his flattery, his money. If only he could earn more. But how?

The emoluments of the insurance business are certainly great if a man is successful, but as certainly they are not to the mediocre agent. Then there is the uncertainty attached to the income. One month successful—

Corset for Princess Has Gold Buckles.

This corset recently exhibited at the Fashion Show in New York City is to be given Princess Mary for her trousseau. The corset has a brassier of gold a silver brocaded cloth and is finished with solid gold buckles, hooks and eyes. Princess Mary who is to wed Viscount Lascelles February 28, will receive a corset as a wedding gift. Miss Thelma Van is here shown displaying it.

the next perhaps no business at all. If he could save in the good times, he would be able to tide over the lean weeks, but how was it possible to save with Helen?

He was more discouraged than he realized at first over her determination to punish him for withholding from her the fact he had made that big commission. He had been so pleased when he banked it; had thought it the first step in an upward swing that would make him feel safe for future his future and Helen's.

She had warned him not to attempt to put anything by again without her knowledge. He wished he had not asked Dunn to dinner. But if he hadn't she would have found it out. Fate was against him.

Not a very good frame of mind in which to impress people with the idea that they wanted something they didn't want—an insurance agent's requisite.

He worked doggedly all day. Saw more prospects perhaps than any one day since he had been married, yet with not one single success. At 6 o'clock he went home.

Hatted and gloved, Helen was waiting.

"Isn't there anything in the house, Helen? I'd rather have a cold snack than go out. I'm all in!"

"If that isn't just like a man! Here I have been sick all day, not eaten a thing, and now when I'm as hungry as a bear you talk about cold snacks I expect you had a big luncheon in some of those swell restaurants down town, and that's the reason you aren't hungry."

Suddenly Jack remembered he had eaten no luncheon. He had used even the noon hour interviewing prospects. But he said nothing simply shrugged his shoulders. What was the use!

"Very well, come on," he said. "I want to get back and in bed."

"Nonsense! There's an awfully good picture on and it's only a step from the restaurant. I want to see it."

Hot, angry words rose to Jack's lips and died there. She had called him an "old stogy." It was not the first time either. She was young, of course she liked entertainment. Perhaps if he refused to go with her someone else would be only too glad to take his place—Barnes.

What time did you get up?" he asked moving toward the door, his shoulders sagging, his step listless.

"About five! My but I was sick all the morning."

"Don't you think you would feel better to get home and have a good night's sleep?"

"Goodness no! I slept the whole afternoon. I never feel better in life than I do now. And I like to see things other people see. I feel such an idiot when they talk of the pictures and the theaters. There's some excuse when we don't go to the theater much because we are so far uptown. But when such a nice movie house is right around the corner there is no excuse for not seeing all the new pictures."

Jack said no more. He thought that perhaps he should be thankful she didn't insist upon the theaters, although he took her oftener than they could afford. The dinner made him feel a bit better. He found he was hungry, too. But Helen was dissatisfied. She grumbled:

"Such a cheap place! Regular board ing house dinner! People never will give you big business when you act like a cheap skat, eating in common places. You have to act and look successful if you want to get on."

"Quoting Barnes?"

"What if I am! He's a smart business man, isn't he? And doesn't he always look smart, and doesn't he patronize smart places where he can see big business men. Howard Dunn doesn't eat in such places either. You might learn something from him. He is in the same business."

"Damn the business! Excuse me, Helen, but things have been rotten today. I hoped to get rested so I might do something tomorrow. Won't you give up the show tonight?"

"No I won't! If you didn't get business it is your own fault. You have proved you can!" she returned taking his arm as they left the restaurant and turning toward the picture house.

Tomorrow—Helen Asks Jack for Money.

Large attendance, marked the Sunday services of the revival campaign conducted at the First M. E. Church, as one of the best of the series.

The meeting was intensified by the "Booster's Chorus" composed of the boys and girls of the church, who sang at the evening service. During the Sunday School service, plans were made for "Sunday School Night" to be held, next Friday, when teachers and their classes will attend the service in a body.

Dr. Scott's sermon at the evening meeting, Sunday, was upon the topic, "Future Punishment," and was one of the most forceful of his addresses.

Plans for the week include the group prayer meetings, to be held on Tuesday and Thursday, rehearsals of the "Booster's Chorus," and the organization of the program for "Sunday School Night." There will be no service, Monday evening.
